Meet the Director!

Professor Jennifer Fluri, Department of Geography, will direct the program. Professor Fluri has extensively traveled and worked in the Czech Republic, including Prague, for several years. In cooperation with CU's Education Abroad, she will choose the program participants, lead a pre-program orientation, teach the course, and act as resident director in Prague. She will be available in case of emergency.
PRAGUE

- Central European connection between East and West
- World heritage site
- Multiple cultures & layers of history
This program invites exploration of Prague through field based study on historical geographic aspects of Czechia (The Czech Republic’s) economic, political, and social transitions. In examining history, urban geography, mobility and migration, gender, race, and sexuality, students will come to learn the impact these topics have had on contemporary Czechia.
