The Director

Dr. Daniel Brown, Senior Instructor in Finance directs this program. Dr. Brown spent 10 years living in and around London while working in the banking industry. His real-world finance experience informs the classes taught on this seminar.

Having lived in London, Dr. Brown can help the students explore both the popular attractions but also hidden gems.

London

London is a fascinating city with history, culture, and a unique melding of the old and new; one can spend days and weeks exploring the city but barely scratching its surface.

London is one of the great financial centers of the world. All major and most minor banks in the world have a significant presence there. It is the heart of the foreign exchange market and a key city in the derivatives market.
